PAUL PLANTE

EYES SEEN/WITH EYES TO SEE

“Eyes Seen/With Eyes to See, oil pastels by Paul Plante of Oquossic, will run from May 14 through June 14. Father Paul Plante has shown with the gallery since 1999. In this exhibit, new work includes not only the luscious birds’ eyes he is most well known for, but also the eyes of cats as well as the eyes of color-charged reef fish. Newest of all are close ups of iris flowers, while a multiple plum piece reminds us of Plante’s earliest work. Plums were the subject of his senior thesis while at the Maine College of Art (then the Portland School of Art) where in 1987, he earned his BFA. He is the pastor of five parishes in the Rangely area, but also devotes a piece of his daily life to his artwork, which has become so widely known in Maine. He has also been exhibiting in Boston and New York for the past 10 years.
