At Home and Abroad

Phoebe Bly

presents images of home life in Tenants Harbor. A raccoon on top of a trash can, or a painting that marvels at the darkness of the night and the brightness of the stars. “Little scenes from the neighborhood” as she calls them.

Anna Dibble

These paintings were made this April at Camont, an artists' residency in Southwestern France. My subject matter was gnarly, vine clumped Acacia trees, flowering shrubs, fence stakes, saplings and blue sky. I worked in watercolor and acrylic paint, using my father's 50 year old brushes along with a collection of sticks I found on the ground.

Valerie Mendelson

Every so often my work comes inside. I get fascinated with the landscape of the interior. My eye looks out through a window, drawn towards the shifting light and shadows. This group of paintings is a record of that indoor meditation.
